underwent the ordeal of the operation was one of the most remarkable evidences of fortitude that he has given in his whole life. After a lengthy conference, the doctors concluded it was advisable to operate for pleurisy, the primary purpose being to explore the afmary purpose being to explore the af-fected parts. They hoped incidentally to draw off the collected fluid.

When their determination was com-municated to the pontiff, he showed no anxiety. On the contrary, he submit-ted very willingly, expressing the hope that good results might come, recalling the successful results—following—Dr. Mazzoni's operation some years ago for cyst. As the operation was not of a capital nature, not suggesting the use of chloroform or other anesthetics, the pope lay on his bed, with his left side exposed below the arm pit to the waist. Only the two doctors and two personal attendants were within the chamber. The immediate direction of the operation devolved on Dr. Mazzoni, who han died the instruments and made the preparatory arrangements. First a slight incision was made in the side of the venerable patient.

A solution of alcohol and corrosive sublimate was then injected and co-caine was used to deaden the pain. The pain of operation was used to deaden the pain. point of operation was just below the seventh rib and the operation itself consisted in the insertion of a large pravaz needle syringe. This penetrated to the region where the matter had accumulated and by means of suction slowly drew it off. Under the skillful guidance of Dr. Mazzoni, the operation scarcely occupied over four minutes.

The pope manifested no pain what-ever, neither was there the slightest quiver or moral dread from the opera-In the language of one of doctors, the cocaine so deadened the parts that the pontiff felt no more than a slight pin prick.

From a pathological standpoint the passage of air was considered satisfactory in the physical relief which it brought to the pope. He showed a slight smile on his pallid face, and be-stowed benediction on the doctors bending over him. The pontiff even strok-ed Dr. Mazzoni's face, in the benevolent way which is characteristic of him, Then, with one hand, he arranged his position, closed his eyes and in a few minutes passed into a calm, healthful The doctors remained by the pope's

MOB FIRED ON SOLDIERS FIRST

That Much About Evansyille Riot Has Been Established.

PEOPLE VERY EXCITED YET

Most of Victims, Dead and Wounded, Members of Prominent Families-Martial Law May be Declared.

Evansville, Ind., July 7 -- Six shot lead and 20 injured, four fatally, is the utcome of the race riots that have raused a reign of terror in this city during the past four days.

At 10:30 last night the Evansville company of Indiana national guard, assisted by 200 special deputy sheriffs, sworn in during the day, while guarding the county jail, in which were 16 negro prisoners, poured a deadly volley of buckshot and bullets into a crowd of several thousand people led by a hundred armed rioters which was pressing them back amid jeers, ac-companied by stones.

When the smoke cleared away, six dead bodies lay on the ground. There is a contention as to who fired first, the soldiers or the rioters. That the troops were fired on is proven by the fact that among the wounded were four members of the troops.

The crowd, angered by the presence of the soldiers guarding the prisoners, was shouting its determination to again blow open the jail and secure the ne-groes. For a half hour or more the crash of the mob against the line of soldiers had grown worse. The sol-diers had warned and the citizens had begged the mob to disperse. There were many personal encounters as the riotmany personal encounters as the rioters pressed the line. A stone was thrown, a soldier fell, a bayonet was thrust into the side of a cursing rioter and an order to fire was given. It was all over in a minute. The mob scattered and disappeared. The dead and wounded were taken to homes and hentital and the line of soldiers.

A man in the crowd fired a shot, which struck a soldier. Then the firing became general in the mob and the soldiers fired in return. Orders to cease diers fired in return. Orders to cease firing were given the soldiers almost at one, as the crowd turned in flight. No order to fire was given by himself or an officer. It was done in self defense. The mob has been repeatedly begged to g buck.
